All equipment provided. Instructor: Jose Portillo and Robert Abba

Fencing: One of the first Olympic sports, the art of fencing has evolved from swordsmanship used for duels and self-defense. Tai Chi: Ancient Chinese martial art and a meditative exercise meant to be practiced and performed with mindfulness and complete relaxation of the body. The training techniques to achieve this state include deep breathing, joint loosening exercises, body-awareness scans, and slow circular movements. These practices promote mind/body connection, relaxation, balance, coordination, and strength. Instructor: Sam Killpack

Pilates Mat: Pilates works to strengthen deep abdominal musculature, lengthen the spine, increase body awareness, build muscle tone and gain flexibility. At the same time, it challenges the mind for concentration, precision and breathing. Classes focus on fundamentals to gain an insight into proper muscle usage, and then move into a variety of exercises. Beginner to advanced levels Various Instructors

Spinning: Power Cycle is a stationary bike workout that offers all the cardiovascular benefits and none of the impact associated with aerobics and running programs. The session is 45 minutes consisting of approximately a 5 minute "warm up" period, a 35 minute "work" period, and a 5 minute "cool down" period. Take your athletic conditioning to a higher level. Various Instructors

Hard Bodies: This class is designed to give a toning workout that is geared for the beginner, intermediate, and advanced participants. Intensity is achieved by varying the weight size along with a number of repetitions. In addition, various exercises are used for the same muscle group to achieve proportionate muscle development. The class is centered on toning the major muscle groups with an emphasis on form and technique.

Sprint Step Three: Combines the cardio benefits of aerobic activity (while maintaining target heart rate) with the bench stepping benefits of toning and strengthening the lower-body muscle groups. Maintaining target heart rate is encouraged through the use of fast temp audio. Toning and strengthening are achieved through the use of repetitive movements while engaging the step and the use of power moves, respectively.

Step Challenge: A classic, high intensity fat burning class using adjustable platform. Moderate to high impact moves.

Jivamukti is translated as a free soul living upon the earth. The practice of ahimsa, or non-harming to others, is also a strong foundation. Certified and taught with permission by founders Sharon Gannon and David Life.
